

Unconditional Love...

Where it has long been thought by many that humanity was here to learn unconditional love, few took it upon themselves to, thru their selfless actions, teach it....one learns unconditional love only thru the selfless teaching of it.

To those closest to me in my life, I know you didn't know why I was doing what I was doing but rest assured, the time is upon us that soon you will. In that moment you will know unconditional love when your eyes meet mine. Yes, I love you this much.....it's unconditional...I came here to teach you this as I found it in myself first...

...love is unconditional and one-conditional found only in the golden rule.
